A PIONEER FAMILY OF MOUNTAIN VIEW – THE KLEINS

Presented by

MS. PATRICIA KLEIN SNOW

The Klein family had an important place in the history of Mountain View as well as in other parts of California. Victorine Klein was a primary school teacher and vice principal of the Dana Street School for a period of 32 years ending in 1934. She was recognized as an outstanding and well loved teacher and humanitarian when the (now destroyed) Victorine J. Klein School was built at the corner of California Avenue and Ortega. The site is now Klein Park.

Victorine's father, Pierre Klein, was an important influence on the recognition of quality California wines at a time when Europeans felt they had a "corner on the market." Our speaker, Patricia Snow, as the granddaughter of Pierre, is well qualified to tell the story. She is the author of a recent book about the Klein family.

After the presentation, there will be our usual opportunity for coffee, cookies and good fellowship. Please join us at the Adobe Building, Sunday, February 6, 2005 at 2pm.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE BY NICHOLAS GALIOTTO

2005 – A new year, a new President for the Association. I'll start with my best wishes to you all for an enjoyable and productive 2005.

Many thanks are due our outgoing President, Craig Holden, and the members of his executive committee. Their accomplishments over the past two years have been very important: securing the Adobe Building for Association meetings; revising the Bylaws; publishing a new MVHA brochure; promoting "Milestones" sales; creating an MVHA display at the City Transit Center; and, certainly very important, providing entertaining and informative programs at our membership meetings.

Ralph Faravelli assured me that the previous officers of our association had done the heavy lifting, so my first year as President would be a light load. However, at the meeting of the new executive committee, Wally Erichsen immediately launched a challenge to explore the possibility of establishing a permanent Mountain View History Museum where artifacts and other memorabilia of earlier Mountain View beyond that of the Library's History Room could be exhibited.

Another challenge for the New Year was the replacement of the association's newsletter editor. Hilton Brown had done a great job and was signing off from that role. Fortunately for us, Trudi Tuban Bly agreed to Craig's persuasion and is taking over as editor. This connection to our members is essential, so please thank Trudi.

Wally is arranging some interesting programs for our regular meetings in February and May. The August Barbecue and Raffle coordinated by John Viscovich will again be our main event followed by the Annual Meeting in November.

Encourage your friends to attend our meetings. They will learn of Mountain View's colorful past and mingle with some of those that have lived it. That's what we're about. Let's share the experience.

THANK YOU TO HILTON BROWN III BY CRAIG HOLDEN

The Executive Committee of the Mountain View Historical Association, on behalf of the entire membership, wishes to express our profound gratitude to you for your dedicated and skillful service as Treasurer and Newsletter Editor for many years.

The people of Mountain View have greatly benefited from your choice of our city as your home. Your volunteer work for the community-at-large, as well as for our Association, stands as an inspiration for all of us. We thank you.

100 YEARS AGO (1905): Young Howard Beverly died of consumption at age 20. He and Edward Green were the first graduates of Mountain View High School, June 1904 and were credited with naming the "Blue and Gray" yearbook. Howard was the son of Justice of the Peace Frank P. Beverly and his wife, Carrie.

Mountain View's City Attorney, Arthur M. Free, was appointed postmaster by President Theodore Roosevelt. Mr. Free was later County District Attorney before going on to serve six terms in Congress.

Charles Pearson opened a grocery store on Castro Street. In 1918, it became Erichsen Grocery and later the building was moved to make way for Campen's Mountain View Theatre, which opened in 1926.

75 YEARS AGO (1930): Mrs. Lyllis Lundkvist, High School vocal music teacher, will accompany two local students to Chicago. Analee Camp will play cello in the National School Orchestra and Henry Norman will sing in the National High School Chorus. Only about 20 California students were chosen to participate with those from the rest of the nation.

By using water from a swimming pool, Fire Chief Jack Mockbee and his crew prevented Marymeade, the Fretz residence on Grant Road at Fremont, from burning. Only the garage and servant's quarters were destroyed.

The McDonald and Burke Blacksmith Shop has been in business on Castro Street for over 35 years. First at Castro and Villa in the old Jake Mockbee Blacksmith location, it moved to 363 Castro in 1906.

The Prune and Apricot Exposition building at Castro and Mercy Streets was sold to the Redwine family as a new and larger location for its Mountain View Garage and Ford franchise.

50 YEARS AGO (1955): Chester F. Awalt was named Chamber of Commerce Citizen of the Year for his long service in United Crusade, Salvation Army, Kiwanis and many years on the school board.

Here are several businesses advertising in the Register Leader. Do you remember any of these names? Radio Norris, Franjo Fashions at the corner of Hope and Dana Streets, Latin Barn at Bayshore and Stierlin Road, Country Boy on El Camino Real, Workingman 's Store at 150 Castro Street.

Mrs. Wyllien Pinny Fox opened her Wyllien School of Dance in the Adobe Building.

J.C. Penny had Nation Wide sheets, 8" x 108," at $1.59 each and matching pillow cases at $0.37 each.

Glenn Stillens was re-elected Assistant Fire Chief for the 25th consecutive year.

Mountain View's newest service club is Civitan International with Vern Laveroni as president.

For 1954, the Pacific Press reported $5,000,000 income from book publication. One book alone, "The Great Controversy," sold 350,000 copies and used over "seven carloads of paper."

25 YEARS AGO (1980): Mountain View's Arrow Development Company was internationally famous as a manufacturer of amusement rides which are in use at Marriott's Amusement Park, Great America, Disneyland and Disneyworld.

Santa Clara County Board of Supervisors would like Mountain View to absorb the unincorporated pockets of land around the city which are now being served by the volunteer Fremont Fire District and have the City's Fire Department respond to all fires. Fremont District headquarters and equipment, formerly on Sleeper Avenue, are now at the end of Stierlin Road, next to the dump.

Mountain View has 11 mobile home parks, containing 1, 2655 spaces.

Dave Olmos was named Peninsula Times Tribune Athlete of the Week after he won the 123-pound Santa Clara Valley Athletic League Wrestling Championship.

Declining enrollment, inflation and lower revenue are forcing a decision on possible closing of one of the three Mountain View-Los Altos High School District's schools. A 26-member committee, representing teachers, parents, students, administration and community, has been formed to make recommendations to Superintendent P. Sakamoto.

STREET TALK BY BARBARA KINCHEN

In the last Newsletter, there was a question about Front Lane and Minton Lane. After the old Minton Lumber Mill and offices were torn down, a new housing complex, Town Square, was constructed on the block bordered by Evelyn, Bush, Villa and View Streets. Minton and Front Lanes, each only a block long, run between Bush and View Streets. Front Street was the former name for Evelyn Avenue and, obviously, Minton is named for the former Minton Company and the Minton family.

NEW QUESTION: What do you know about the name Sladky Avenue?

NEW TO THE MOUNTAIN VIEW HISTORY CENTER

FROM MEMBER GEORGE HOLDEN: "Our Stories," a 517 page book by George and Alice Holden about themselves and their ancestors. Also George's 133 page book, "Reference Book – The Writings and Work of George R. Holden at NACA and NASA."

FROM MEMBER WALLY ERICHSEN: A booklet on the history of Westinghouse's Marine Division.
