Methodist Parsonage - 994 Villa St.

At our Winter 2014 meeting we'll learn more about Sarah Winchester and her famous Victorian mansion in San Jose. In anticipation of this event, our cover features some Victorian homes that once graced Mountain View's streets but are probably "mysteries" to most today ; all of these homes were demolished by the 1970s. The Mockbee Home and Swall Home are now part of downtown parking lots, 725 Mariposa is now the site of condominiums, and 994 Villa Street is an office building. Luckily a few Victorians such as the Rengstorff House still stand to remind us of this era of Mountain View's past.

President's Message

By Patricia Figueroa
MVHA President

Hi Everyone,

As we start the New Year the Mountain View Historical Board is working on a variety of interesting new projects.

First project: We are loaning some of our artifacts, which were previously in our storage container, to the Los Altos History Museum for long term display. The pieces we loan to them will have a tag recognizing them as property of the Mountain View Historical Association.

Second Project: Roger Burnell is developing his office building project - Bryant Park Plaza - at the corner of Villa and Bryant Street. The ground floor facing Bryant Street will include a storefront window area designed similar to a museum display. The Mountain View Historical Association is collaborating with Roger to develop an interactive history exhibit for part of the display area.

Third Project: We are a planning and preparing a Mountain View history display for the lobby in the Library for the months of May and June.

We'll keep you informed as we progress on each of these projects. Don't forget to mark your calendars for our next General Meeting at 1pm on February 2nd at the Adobe Building!

Updates from Around Town

By Nick Perry
Newsletter Editor

Happy New Year everyone!

The date may have passed by the time you receive this newsletter, but January 16 marks the 150th Anniversary of train service to Mountain View and the rest of Santa Clara County.

A special celebration is scheduled at the Santa Clara Caltrain Station from 11AM to 3PM on Saturday, January 18. For more information on the event and Caltrain's history visit: www.caltrain.com/about/Caltrain150

Mountain View history-related news was pretty sparse during the holiday season, so there's not much new to report for this edition of the Mtn. ReView. Projects mentioned in previous editions continue to move forward, and as we enter 2014 Mountain View's building-boom shows no sign of abating. We'll continue to keep track of the changes around town-especially those related to our historic sites - and report them here. All the best in 2014!

EDITOR'S NOTE: During the holiday rush I misplaced Barbara Kinchen's submittal for the Winter 2014 Street Talk column. Unfortunately, there wasn't enough time to have Barbara draft another copy prior to printing this newsletter. Apologies to Barbara and our readers; Street Talk will return in Spring 2014!

Mayfield Mall

MOUNTAIN VIEW PALO ALTO, CALIFORNIA

"I had my ears pierced at Mayfield Mall when I was 15. I found a gold watch on the ground there afterwards and still have it. I never worked there but I did work at Old Mill. Now that was a blast!!"

-KH Mulready

"Aww! I worked at JC Penney, and Kelly restaurant. I remember working at Kelly's and people smoking in the restaurant after their meal!"

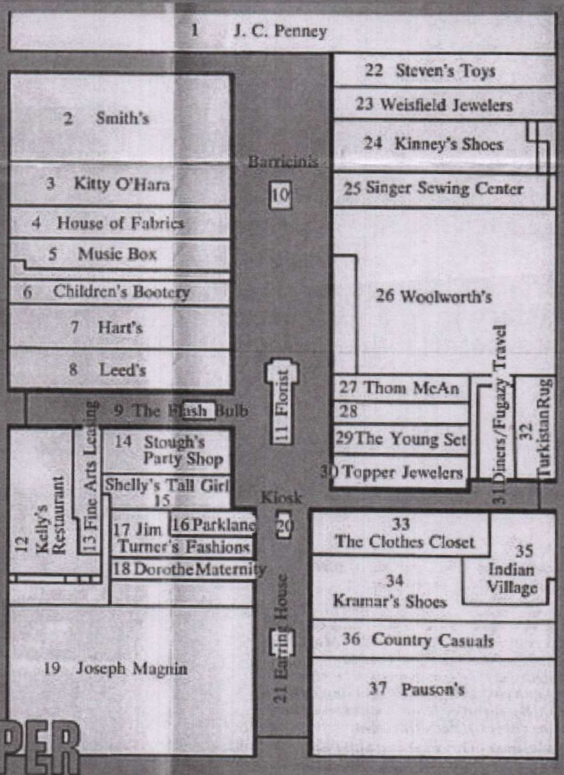

- M Johnson-Renner

"I had my ears pierced there as well, bought clove cigarettes at Cost Plus & moccasins at Indian Village!"

- MD Ruffner

"...we used to get kicked out of that mall for sliding down the middle of the escalators."

-M Lara

UPPER MALL FLOOR PLAN

"Every week I got paid I was at JM (Joseph Magnin) and Leed's - My favorites (those were the days)"

-L Hogan

"We use to hang out by the Woolworth's and I loved their grilled cheese sandwiches with a real chocolate shake, they would even give you the extra in the metal cup and there was always extra! The good ol days."

-R Hartman

"...bought I don't know how many pairs of moccasins at Indian Village. Shopped many more places in the mall. Don't know what I would have done without it back then."

The Mtn. View Historical Association Invites You To Attend:

Sarah Winchester

History Behind the Mystery

Please join us at the historic Adobe Building for the Mountain View Historical Association's Winter Meeting, featuring a lecture by historian Mary Jo Ignoffo, author of the book Captive of the Labyrinth: Sarah L. Winchester, Heiress to the Rifle Fortune.

Since her death in 1922, Sarah Winchester has been perceived as a mysterious, haunted figure. After inheriting a vast fortune upon the death of her husband in 1881, Sarah came to California and purchased a simple farmhouse. Over the next twenty years, she added to and remodeled the old house. She was accused of being a ghost-obsessed spiritualist, and to this day it is largely believed that the extensive construction was done to appease the ghouls around her.

Was Sarah Winchester as guilt-ridden and superstitious as history remembers her? Mary Jo Ignoffo has uncovered letters, documents, and a variety of primary source material that demystifies this unique American woman.

Mary Jo Ignoffo

About our Featured Speaker

Mary Jo Ignoffo is a historian committed to presenting history to the public through exhibits, books, articles, lectures and forums. The Chicago-born, Los Angeles-raised, longtime resident of the San Francisco Bay Area has spent much of the last twenty years researching and writing about California and community history.

Ms. Ignoffo's work with museums includes the permanent outdoor Orchard Heritage Park Interpretive Exhibit in Sunnyvale, California and permanent and changing exhibits at Heritage Park Museum, also in Sunnyvale. She has been curator for more than ten installations at the California History Center at De Anza College in Cupertino and authored the 2010 exhibit on Sarah Winchester at the Los Altos History Museum in Los Altos, California. She has also authored five books, including Milestones: A History Mountain View and teaches U.S. history and topics in California history at De Anza College.

Special Note to NFL Football Fans: Event will Conclude prior to Kick-Off!
